VOLUME VIII.

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., SATURDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 22, 1892.

The Great World's Fair Enterprise Dedicated

WITH IMPOSING CEREMONIES

Over 125,000 Persons Witness the Brilliant Proceedings-Depew and Watterson's Eloquent Orations.

CHICAGO, Oct. 21 .- The great white city at Jackson park is tonight, and trust with rivalry toward none and felhenceforth, the property of the nation. In the presence of the greatest audience that has ever assembled under one roof in the history of the universe -for the Cohseum at Rome was open to the sky-an audience, stupendous, astounding, overwhelming, may more, absolutely appailing in its immensity, the structures designed for the World's Columbian Exposition, in commemoration of the quadro centennial of the discovery of this continent of Christopher Columbus, were formally tendered ther by far than those of her predecesto the World's Cotumbian commission, and accepted by the vice president of the United States in behalf of the re-

Mind cannot conceive, nor eye picture the scene presented this evening when the tall form and benign features of the representative of the administration appeared upon the very edge of the rostrum and faced the multitude The painter has not yet been born whose brush and palette could do justice to the moment.

A Tribute to the Nation.

A hundred and twenty-five thousand souls-many skilled in estimating say more, few less-men from the work shops in homespun garb; men in breadcloth who live in marble palaces, and measure their wealth by many millions; beautiful women, the pick and pride of the beiledom of the south and north; women whose days are full of toil, and who came with their infants in their arms that their eyes might look upon a scene, the like of which may never again be repeated; men of many climes whose names are indissolubly linked with the world of diplomacy, princes of the church, the representatives of the masses; an eighth of a million of them carried away by the enthus asm. the sublimity of the occasion and the hour, and as with one mind and one voice paying tribute to the nation in extending a welcome to its view presi-

Tidal Wave of Applause.

Such a roar of applause, starting simultaneously in the far off corners of the vast structure, and sweeping down toward the center like a tidal wave, such a stamping of countless thousands of feet, such a waving of white handkerchiefs, until it seemed as though monster snowlakes were quivering in the air over every head, the patriotic impulses of eighty millions of people finding vent through their chosen representatives, a pean of triumph over the successful ;nauguration of a stupenduous national enterprise, and amid such a scene were the marveious achievements of little more than a twelvemonth dedicated to the progress in art, in science, in agriculture, in manufactures, in numanity of the old world and the new. It was just 12:30 when a burst of cheering that swelled into a vast volume of sound announced the arrival of Vice President Morton. The hall at this moment was a wonderful sight, the backneyed expression "a sea of up-turned faces" was in this case literally correct, for forty-four acres were covered with expectant countenances turned toward the northern entrance. over which a band was playing "Hail a third of the program had been

Comes Back From the Lake

The music came but faintly, however, to those in the center of the hall, being drowned by the cheering and the booming of guns from the United States steamer Michigan, lying off the exposition grounds, and the volley firing of a light battery stationed at the north in-

The enthusiasm wared warm as the minutes went by, until within ten minutes every man, woman and child was standing and waving a bat, a bandkerchief, a flag or whatever happened to be at hand. Up in the galleries the occupants of the boxes leaned far out and added their voices to those of the multitude below; and way up on thin appdory iron ratters, near the apex of the arched roof, men were chinging, dent Palmer of the national commislooking at that beight like spiders in their webs. Every one was shouting and cheers from the insule were answered by shouts from the outside, when the military escort was passing toward the northern end of the build-

The burst of appliance that greeted the introduction of Bishop Flower was instantly stilled as the noted divined closed bis eyes.

The Invocation

Turned his face upwards, stretched forth his hands in entresty and commenced the supplication to the Throne of Grace. But it was very mon evident that the hall had not been designed for the convenience of the public speakers, for his voice could harviy be heard bewond the press section, and to all but a few hundred of the spectators the proceeding was but a dumb show. It was prayer, and as it progressed, people became impatient and the mur- with Chicago's advancement and postbecares a roar and the conclusion of for in the monetate victoria. As the busing resumed his seat In rector General Courge R. Davis stopped and character. forward and was accorded a bearty re- though Columbus had not found rivers ception. The executes head of the of subus and lakes of diamonds in exposition spoke with bresity and to America, yet the discovery half led to the point, Masket The Director Sentral's Speach

Ladier and Gentlemen - By virtue of more. In conclusion to said come with which we here destructe to a congress of the United States for the COMMING OF DESTRUCTION as pre-aminent in the progress of one factorers. are all affairs, I am moved by citicatoms. I fiel cate from to burningly.

position. May a be fruitful of its aims Messawinin Honry Watterson, who arrayed her kinglion and her private fews, and torremer fluincley of Com Liargest crowd congregated at Washing Learning of America.

There was more applause when he fiushed, and Mayor Washburne, who was next presented, had no reason to com-plain of the warmth of his reception. There was a still greater murmur of voices, like a roar in the distance, but the occupants of the piatform and of the sections immediately fronting it were in themselves a big audience, and to if Chicago's young mayor managed to make himself fairly well heard, say-

Mayor Washbarn Talks.

"Chicago, chosen as a most fitting place to hold a celebration to mark this country's dawn, accepts the sacred lowship toward all. She stands ready to fulfill the pledges she has made. She needs no orator to sing her merits, no post to sing her glories. She typithe civilization of this continent and this age; she has no heary locks; no crumbling ruins; the gray-haired sire who saw her birth today holds on high his prattling grandchild to see the nations of the earth within her gates. The Columbian Ode.

As the mayor finished, Mrs. Sarah C. Le Moyne was presented, and in a voice of alto pitch that reached furors, commenced to read the first stanza of the commemorative ode, and of which Miss Harriet Monroe, who was seated upon the platform in close proximity to Cardinal Gibbons, was the author. The reader brought great dramatic power into play, and was rewarded with the most liberal applause that the audience had so far vouchsafed.

The tourth stanza was rendered by the chords from its gallery at the southern end of the structure, nearly a thousand feet distant from the platform. For a moment or two, six thousand voices could scarcely be heard, but gradually the music increased in volume until it penetrated every nook and corner of the building. of the stanzas were alternately read and sung and at the conclusion amidst tremendous bursts of popular approval wreaths of laurel were placed on Mrs. Le Moyne and Miss Monroe.

The latter when introduced stood pale and graceful, trembling with emotion produced by her royal welcome and the magnificent success of her poetic effort. Apparently she tried to say something but she was too much overcome to do much more than move her lips, and with smiles and bows and clous moisture of eyes she resumed her seat.

Medals Presented

It was the turn of Director of Works Burnham to present to President Higginbotham, the master artists of the exposition, in order that they might be made the recipients of medals specially commemorating their share in

At a signal the artists moved down the center aisle of the stage to within a few feet of the president's desk, standing six abreast in full view of the multitude. Just, however, as the di-rector of works commenced his address the chorus decided to get in its work on a composition not down on the program, and it had no difficulty in effectually drowning the eulogy of patriotic harmony. They were so much the artists. Burnham raised his voice and the chorus sang still was doubtful until it onder whether a single one of the able men, who were being complimented, could hear a word that was being said, but Burnham continued bravely to the end of his manuscript. President Higinbotham briefly responded; an aide de camp produced a tray of medals from behind a bank of foliage, held it aloft for a moment and then put it back again, the artists turned right about in double quick time. Mrs. Palmer's Address, reached and passed. The chorus was down for a rendition of Hayden's but to the world. The results of the 'the Heavens are Telling" but the di- event it commemorates are the herirector general passed it over and instead presented the president of the lady managers. The appearance of Mrs. Potter Palmer was the signal for cheers again and again repeated. The queen of the fair smiled and bowed her thanks and cross raised on San Salvador was opthen proceeded to deliver in a conversational tone a characteristically modest address concerning what had been more than a hundred of her hateners were able to make a connected story liberty. The exhibition of arts and out of what she had to say.

The one great feature of the exercises, the tendering of their buildings in their acceptance was now in order and a hush fell upon the audience as Presilocal directory, rose from their seals ent miracle. on either side of the chair, advanced toward, and faced each other. Mr. Higinbotham spoke first, and in a brief of the structures in the name of the World's Communan exposition to the ings so far as the local organization is paper at once utilized the press.

Having performed his part Mr. Higginbotham resumed his seat, and his place was taken by Vice President Morto a tumuit, and it was some time be-

Mr. Morton Builleates the Fair. When Mr. Morton was introduced to dedicate the buildings in behalf of the United States the enthusiasin graw in-fore qual was restored. be President Morton's speech dealt mur of voices gradually swelled notif t from in the nation, and with the actonshing progress which had been made the nyneation was mandille save to a for the fair. He referred to the edu canonal facilities of the United States and deals largely with Columbia hits the finding of more valuable articles of my official position it is my pleasure. Mr. President, in the name of the shind ity to present the noted passing government of the United States, I ages who, at this hour, in their several hereby dedicate these buildings and frinctions, are to renderings to the eyes. Their applications, intended by the grounds and palifyings of the World's one of the World's tolumbian expreshow, so the world's progress in art. The a presence so test, on an occasion spience, or agriculture, and in manu-commerce, namely potators and qui-

IT IS THE NATION'S and of peace forever to all the nations had slept while the other distinguished fortune behind the enthusiasm of this necticut, were each attended by a million park which was the most accessation, and posterity mystic mariner, and posterity may be from the heart of the city but it is put in a decidedly late appearance was resurrected from the back ground the Columbian orator, the audience at Jerusalem from the mindel. He did not know what time has to ceptions that are of the stage and brought to the front. ceptions that are especially appreciated by Kentuckians.

Mr. Watterson's Oration.

"Who shall measure the canvas or blend the colors that are to bring to the mind's eye of the present the scenes of the past in American glory?" he said, after having made his opening. "Who shall dare attempt summon the dead to life and out of the tonib of the ages recall the tones of the martyrs and heroes whose voices, though silent forever, still speaks to us in all that we are as a nation, in all that we do as men and women?"

The speaker sketched in glowing words the early history of the continent, the war of the revolution and the subsequent struggle which vindicated the right of this nation to take its place among the foremost of the earth. Then he referred to the great occasion which had gathered his auditors together.

We are a plain, practical people. We are a race of inventors and workers, not of poets and artists," he said. 'We have led the world's movement, not its thought. Our needs are to be found not upon frescoed walls, or in ample libraries, but in the machine shop, where the spindles sing and the looms thunder; on the open plain, where the steam plow, the reaper and the mower contend with one another in friendly war against the obduracies | for Virginia. This company of saints, of nature; in the magic of electricity as and first cargo of slaves, represented it penetrates the darkest caverns with it penetrates the darkest caverns with its irresistible power and light."

A Welcome Royal, Turning to his task of welcome, "a most pleasant one," the speaker said, Mr. Watterson spoke kindly of the dif ferent nations of the European continent and of "our good cousin of "All nations and all creeds be welcome here," he said, "from the Bosphorus and the Black sea, the Viennese woods and the Danubian plains; from Holland dyke to Alpine crag; from Belgrade and Calcutta, and round to China seas and the busy marts of Japan, the isles of the Pacific and the far away capes of Africa-Armenian, christian and Jew-the American, loving no country except his own, but loving all mankind as his brother, bids you enter and tear not; bids you partake with us of these fruits of 400 years of American civilization and development, and behold these trophies of 100 years of American independence and fredom! "God bless our country's flag! And God be with us now and ever, God in the roof-tree's shade and God on the highway, God in the winds and waves, and God in all our hearts!"

"The chorus will now sing the 'Star Spangled Banner," announced Director-General Davis, "and everybody is independence 64,000,000 people have invited to join in the refrain," audience arose and, as the strain of the grand old anthem broke through the structure, they lent the inspiration of their voices to the great volume of Dorado of De Soto. darker and darker and the presiding officer hastened to introduce America's old man eloquent, Chauncey M. Depew.

DEPEW'S ELGOUENCE.

He Pictures the Magnificence of the Discovery in Pretty Words.

Cheers rent the air as Dr. Chauncey M. Depew stepped forward. Everyone face and retreated from the platform | knew that they were to hear the greatest effort in the life of the famous orator. Sone were disappointed. It was now nearly 4 o'clock, and but | When quiet was restored Dr. Depew said:

"This day belongs not to America. of man. The preparation was the work of almost countless centuries, the realization was the revelation of one. portunity. But for the first, Columbus would never have sailed; but for the second, there would have been no place for the planting, the nurture and the expansion of civil and religious sciences, of industries and inventions. of education and civilization, which the republic of the United States will here present, and to which, through its chief magistrate, it invites all nacondenses and displays

"Fifty years before Columbus sailed from Palos, Guttenberg and Faust had forged the hammer which was to break out appropriate address, made tender | the bonds of superstition and open the avented the printing press and mov-World's Columbian commission by this abla types. The prior adoption of a act surrendering control of the build- cheap process for the manufacture of first service, like all its succeeding efforts, was for the people. Fighting to Conquer.

"Forty-four authentic portraits of Columbus have descended to us, and no two of them are the counterfeits of lue same person. Each represents a character as distinct as its canvas, Strength and weakness, intellectuality and supplify, high moral purpose and brutal ferocity, purity and Beentious. ness, the dreamer and the miser, the perate and the puritan, are the types west became a reality in his mind. To | that park with Jackson park, the si He never doubted his trict early in the day. strength. Unsided and alone he snoscreening and dividing the e-uncils of mas decidedly interesting and was wit-the soldensatios. After ten years of nessed by thousands of persons who the subghtened muck of the convent of Robits, who was not unfaitering Friend, he should before the throne of alry, three tatterns of United States. Forthward and leanella and rose to artifery, and one battery of artifery unperial dignity in his rags.

Grandens of Women

"Columbus died as he was securing while the mission of the crusades, of Godfrey of Bouillon and Richard of the Lion Heart was a bloody and fruitless romance, the discovery of America was the salvation of the world. The one was the symbol, the other the spirit; the one death, the other life. The northern continent was divided between England, France and Spain, and the southern between Spain and Portugal. France, wanting the capacity for colonization, which still chargeterizes her, gave up her western possessions and left the English, who have he genius of universal empire, masters of North America. The development of the experiment in the English domain makes this day memorable. It is due to the wisdom and courage, the faith and virtue of the inhabitants of this territory that government of the people, for the people and by the peo-ple was mangurated and has become a triumphant success.

Two Extremes. The Puritan settled in New England and the Cavalier in the south. They represented the opposites of spiritual and temporal life and opinions. The processes of liberty liberalized the one and elevated the other. The May-flower, with the Pilgrims, and a Dutch ship laden with African slaves, were on the ocean at the same time, the one satling for Massachusetts, and the other cue free government.

"The slaver was the product of the commercial spirit of Great Britain, and the greed of the times to stimulate production in the colonies. The men who wrote in the cabin of the Mayflower the first charter of freedom, a government of just and equal laws, were a little band of protestants against every form of injustice and tyranny. The leaven of their principles made possible the declaration of independence, liberated the slaves and founded the free commonwealths which form the republic of the United States.

"Benjamin Franklin, philosopher and patriot, amused the jaded courtiers of Louis XVI. by his talks about liberty, and entertained the scientists of France by bringing lightning from the clouds.

The March of Freedom, "In the reckoning of time, the period from Franklin to Morse, and from Morse to Edison is but a span, and yet it marks a material development as marvelous as it has been beneficent. The world has been brought into contact and sympathy. The electric curthe globe. Power and production, highways and transports have been so multiplied and improved by inventive independence 64,000,000 people have The | happy homes and improved conditions within our borders. We have accumulated wealth far beyond the visions of the Cathay of Columbus, or the El

"The sum of human happiness has in earnest that they would doubtless been infinitely increased by the mil-have sung it three times over had they lions from the old world who have imhave had their way, but it was getting proved their conditions in the new, and the returning tide of lesson and experience has incalculably enriched the fatherlands. The divine right of kings has taken its place with the instruments of mediaval torture among the curiosities of the antiquary. The time has arrived for both a closer union, and greater distance between the old world and the new. The former indiscriminate welcome to our prairies, and the present invitation to these palaces of art and industry, mark the passing period.

"All Hail, Columbus,"

Unwatched and unhealthy immigration can no longer be permitted to our shores. We must have a national quarantine against disease, pauperism tage of the peoples of every race and for our hospitals, our poor houses, or and crime. We do not want candidates our mils. Dr. Depew closed as follows: "All hail, Columbus, discoverer, dreamer, hero and apostle. We here, of every race and country, recognize the hori zon which bounded his vision and the infinite scope of his genius. The voice of gratitude and praise for all the blessings which have been showered upon mankind by his adventure is limited to no language, but is uttered in every tongue. Neither marble nor brass can fitly form his statue. tinents are his monument, and unnumbered millions, past, present, and to come, who enjoy in their liberties and their happiness the fruits of his The entire line of march was not much sion and President Higinbotham of the flower and fruitage of this transcend. faith, will reverently guard and preserve, from century to century, his was witnessed by upwards of name and fame." After Mr. Depew had concluded, Cardinal Gibbons led in prayer proneuncing the Divine benediction upon World's Columbian exposion, officers, managers, patrons and pro-moters. When this had been finished the director general stopped before his Its desk and sad: "I pronounce these ceremonies closed."

The real event had reached an end, while the multitude of visitors made haste for their carriages, etc., on their return trip.

JUST A MILE LONG

The Military Parade Witnessed by Nearly

200,000 Persons. Currage, Oct. 21.—The main features of the military pageant, with which the day of dedication opened, were displayed in a locality that is separated The perils of the sea in his worth gave by at least six good miles from the him a glompse of the possibilities of the | business center of the city-namely, at doknown. The works of previous ex. Washington park and on the Midway plorers were ecanned until the fabled Planamer, a thoroughfare connecting lest the truth of his speculations, this of the world's fair. Yet there was poor and unknown discarses must win much of military pomp and circumis support of kings and overcome for stance exemp fied in the uptown dis-

This desplay was but preluminary to ceeded in arousing the jealouses of the grand rayles and parale, but it disappointment and poverty, substing line the lake front and Michigan must of the time upon the charity of avenue. It is the parade of esport guests were parading, and consequently mystic mariner, and posterity pays tary escort of their own, and the staffs put in a decidedly late appearance, homage to her wisdom and faith. parade uniform, so that upwards of ,000 uniformed men were in line.

> Formation of the Parade, The carriages containing the guests numbered about 250, and the guests included very many distinguished men from all parts of the United States. The board of lady managers, a company of ladies, one from each the thirteen original states, the world's fair department chiefs, the director of works, Mayor Washburne and the city council of Chicago, also had places in the line of carriages. Nearly every state and territory in the Union, even including far off Alaska and youthful Oklahoma, were represented among the guests. General Miles, with his staff, was at the head of the procession, which started from the front of the Auditorium about 9 o'clock. Among the troops of cavairy that immediately followed him were two or three that have seen hard service on the frontier, and have won ers. There were also two troops composed of Indians and one of colored

The line of march was directly down Michigan avenue. At the Lexington hotel, the cabinet officers, foreign legadent Morton, accompanied by Mr. Higinbotham, was received into the Review at the Park.

An immense crowd had gathered in the vicinity of the house to get a glimpse of the vice president as he came out. After this incident the procession moved on down Michigan avenue to Thirty-fifth street and turning through that street into Grand boulevard kept on to Washington park. Over the entire route, from the auditorium to the park, the streets were lined with people cheering and waving hats and handkerchiefs.

At Washington park the grand military display was entered upon. The "meadow," an immense level field comprising upwards of 200 acres, has been reserved as a training ground for the regulars and the militia; a police rope two miles in length encircled this field. Upon it were assembled about 12,000 soldiers including two battallions of United States infantry, the entire national guard of Illinois, six regiments; two regiments of militia from Ohio, two regiments from Indiana, one regiment from Missouri, one regiment from Michigan, one regiment from lows, two regiments from Wisconsin and the entire brigade of Minnesota militia. Around the rope enclosure were gathered spectators to the number of 50,-

When the guests were driven in upon the grounds the United States cavalry and articlery took position upon the west side of the field while the United States infantry and visiting state troops were massed in line upon the opposite side and were reviewed by the vice president of the United States.

The Cleveland Grevs After the review the military marched down through the park, the carriages following. The broad road which they followed was lined with people four or five deep on each side, and hundreds of ambitious sightseers viewed the parade from among the upper branches of the park shade trees. It was a fine, inspiring show and excellent marching was done by the militia. cathing forth from the great throng of spectators rounds of applause. The uniforms of nearly all the military organizations were of the regulation blue, the only noteworthy exception being the uniforms worn by the famous Cleveland grays, which formed a part of Governor McKinley's escort. and that worn by the famous "Gov-ernor's Foot Guard" of Hartford, acting as escort for Governor Bulkley of connecticut, each of which were rich and very showy. The distinguished guests were warmly cheered as they were recognized by the crowde, and Vice President Morton and Governor Flower of New York, sur-rounded by his handsome cavalry troops, Governor McKinley of Ohio, Governor Boies of lowa, Governor Fifer of Illimois, while the Hon. John Sherman, Senator Brice, and several attention. Fred Douglas, who rode with members of the diplomatic corps, was pleasantly greeted all along the Passing out of the park the processon made its way through the Midway Plaisance to the world's fair grounds. over a mile in length, yet the parade persons, and there was very little of crowding or discomfort.

The Inevitable Accidents.

The only accident of any consequence occurred on Michigan avenue. Near Eighteenth street the horse of a eavairvioan threw his rider and plunged into the crowd on the sidewalk, injuring five persons, but none of them seriously. A few women fainted while witnessing the parade and two or three persons received slight injuries

At 2 o'clock the bridge leading from the Illinois state building to the fisheries building at the fair grounds gave away and the immense throng of people became almost panic stricken. that most of the people on the bridge were able to make their cacane. Four people, however, two women and two men, were thrown into the waters of the lagoon. They were at once fished out and taken to the hospital on the grounds. Here it was found they were aninjured, and after gesting dried out departed. They did not give their big building where the exercises were being held and it was reported several people were a red and injured, and was learned a right of color went up that plainty showed the sympathy of

Several traces of United States can. The Giantest Display of Financial Ever Good by In. Wir. II. Harper, president

Canana, Oct. 21 .- Tonight the dett. gnants, and the Tolesto caneta, mount, cather exercises should with the canet on life. Ame overmances inspection. The conclusion of this address was such both are lost in gratitude that Lan permitted to imaginate these over the sound of the sound of the sound of the sound in France of the sound of the s permitted to integritate these cere minimist. The signal for iron and the signal for iron and the signal for iron and the integritate these cere minimist. The signal for iron and the signal for iron and the iron president for iron and the iron president of the major and the minimist. The major and the minimist of the minim ble from the heart of the city but it is estimated that no less than 200,0 people saw each of these displays.

At 8 o'clock the heavens commenced to assume the fiery canopy that crowned the city with the most magni ficent blaze of glory that the world ever saw. The display opened with a salute of 100 fifteen inch ariel marcons. which exploded at an altitude of 80 feet and sent a shower of fire back to the earth. As this died away, each park suddenly blased forth in a magcal illumination from 500 prismatiights fired by electricity, changing color five times, and throwing over the and the newly adopted municipal terra cotta. Then 500 five pound rockets rushed to the skies from each of the three parks blending their various tints in the heavens. A Heaven of Fire,

From time to time the parks were brilliantly illuminated with colored fires in generous quantities. One of the crowning features of the marvelous fame for their prowess as Indian fight- display was the magnificent Columbus bouquet made by the flight of 15,000 rockets, 5,000 at the same moment from each of the three parks. This is the largest flight of rockets known of in the history of the world and its beauty cannot be fully described in words tions, judges of the supreme court and | For two minutes the effect was seen in governors were received into line. In every part of the city and for miles front of the residence of President around it. The heavens were turned Higginbotham at Twenty-ninth etreet into a sea of fire in every color of the the disease and in the absence of any a brief halt was made and Vice Presi-

either continent. In each of the parks five bombshells eighty inches in circumference and weighing 110 pounds were thrown from mortars to an altitude of 700 feet, where they exploded, forming a picture of marvelous grandeur. These were the largest bombshells ever made of this kind. One of the most novel of the many features on the programme was the star spangled banner in fireworks floating in the sky at an altitude

Flying of the Flag.

The flags were 300 feet in length and | which manifested themselves during presented a design never before at-tempted in acrial work. They were attached to balloons under the direction James R. McKee, the president's sonof an aeronaut, who took one of them in-law, came on from Boston, and ar-into the heavens himself. When at the rived at the sorrow-stricken home after proper altitude the flash fuse was ig-midnight. Judge Scott, of Washing-nited from the balleon, and upon ton state, Mrs. Harrison's brother, is reaching the suspended flag "Old now the only one of her relatives ab-Glory" spread forth in all its glory, a sent from the city, and he is so far wonder in pyrotecnical beauty without a precedent The flag burned for five minutes, and in time for her to see him. it is safe to say that the American flag never appeared before in a position of a wealth of enthusiasm from the great assemblies. Upon these the best pyro-technical artists in the world have been working for six months, and their efforts were rewarded in the magnificent display they made. Niagara talls was also given in fire, presenting a cataract 600 feet in length, of golden spray, producing an effect never before equalled. There were also many other devices and designs, and when 100'clock had passed the most elaborate fireworks display that was ever burned closed with the great Columbian boquet of in the Auditorium. CHICAGO, Oct. 21 .- By no means the least interesting or important of the inaugural ceremonies connected with the great Columbian exposition were those would be be surprised if the impered of the world's congress auxiliary at the for weeks. Her vitality is something Auditorium this evening. The dedica- remarkable and may possibly withstand tion this afternoon of that part of the exposition to be devoted to the commercial and mechanical progress of the world was followed in the evening by the manguration of another, the intellectual branch, whose achievements are expected to be lasting. The enterprise has enlisted in its support the most brilliant minds in the intellectual world, and has been recognized by the agency to conduct great international conventions to be held during the world's fair; to provide places where the leaders of thought may consider the living questions of their various departments, popular meetings be held, and to secure the publication of the proceedings of such congresses as a valnable and enduring memorial of the than worse.

15,000 rockets. WORLD'S FAIR AUXILIARY. The Learned Minds of the Nations Meet

ilar interest occasioned being h ened by the announcement that Archbishop Ireland of St. Paul, would deiver the principal address of the even-by the Rev. Dr. J. H. Barrows, chairman of the general committee of the auxillary on religious congress.

Mrs. Bearotin's Speech. After the welcome on behalf of the World's Congress auxiliary by the president, Charles C. Bonney, the Woman's branch greeting was extended by Mrs. Potter Palmer president. She said: "The woman's branch of th world's congress auxiliary representing Thomas G. Platt; and they were the marvelous progress of woman durmg the fast four conturies, unites most cordially in this greating and sends congratulations to the leaders of that progressing movement which will enighten all lands," Mrs. Charles Henrotin, vice presdeat of the Woman's auxiliary To lowed with a salutation in honor o Queen Isabella, in words she said The assistance which Columbus to crived from Oneen Isabella enabled him to discover and reveal the Amerilightened womanbood, the queen of this now age, now offers to all men will enable them, especially the folling new worlds of intellectual and moral perity, meproved speal conditions suit he rich framege of resulting peace." President Bonney then Introduced the most retered John Ireland, arch hishop of St. Paul, who spoke at great on also "Intellectual Advancement of the World."

of the an versity of Chusgo.

School Children's Rescrices.

Pati curtoma, Oct. 31.-Columbus

ALL HOPE IS GONE

NUMBER 297.

Mrs. Harrison's Death May Occur at Any Moment.

FAMILY GREATLY DEPRESSED

Dr. Gardner Says She Can Live Only a Few Days, and It May Be Hours.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21 .- There has been a change for the worse in the condition of Mrs. Harrison, and she is weaker than she has been at any time since her illness began. She is greatly exhausted and cannot turn her head upon the pillow. Her cough, which had ceased to trouble her, is now said to have increased in volume. This, coming as it does in paroxyams, has a very depressing and exhausting effect on the patient and tends to reduce her vitality.

Mrs. Harrison's condition is so precarious that she may pass away within a few hours should another sinking spell occur. This may happen at any time now from the natural effects of new complications. At 7 o'clock this canopy that ever clothed any city on morning she was resting easily but still extremely weak.

The Family Is Depressed.

Dr. Gardner made his usual morning risit shortly after 5 o'clock and spent about half an hour at the bedside of Mrs. Harrison. The only persons with ber at the time were Mrs. Dimmick and the nurse. The rest of the boune hold, including the president, were then at breakfast. They are all depressed at the sudden change for the worse in Mrs. Harrison's condition, and seem to dread a recurrence of the alarming sinking spells

In response to a hasty summons, away that he will hardly be sent ifor, as it is doubtful if the could reach here Dr. Gardner's Statement. Dr. Gardner made a brief statement of the case after he had made his examination this morning, from which it appears that the end is merely a quesn of time, but whether of hours or days can be determined only by the progress of events. The doctor said the disease is now making progress in the left lung and the patient is getting weaker and weaker all the time. Her pulse is feeble, respiration 50 and temperature 103. Her coughing spells are fore frequent and are followed by periods of great exhibition from which she rallies with extreme difficulty. She was wakeful and very nervous during the great-er part of the night, but seemed to be a trifle more comfortable this morning. Dr. Gardner said there were peculiar features of the case which rendered it impossible for him to say with any degree of certainty when the end might be expected. He could not say postively that she would ot pass away within a few hours, nor that it was possible that his attendance might be required before that hour. Better at Midnight Washington, Oct. 21.-The anxiety in the capitol as to Mrs. Harrison's illness, was increased this evening by the constant receipt of telegrams from national government as the proper other cities stating that reports as to her death were in circulation. rumors were of course, groundless, out they gave rise to many unnecessary inquiries at the white bouse and caused annovance to the grieved household. The actual facts are that up to about midnight Mrs. Harrison's condition was easier and better rather the inroads of the disease for some time to come. He said he would make another visit about moon, but added

At 10 o'clock this evening, after his The great hall was inadequate for the | visit to Mrs. Harrison's, Dr. Gardiner accommodation of those who desired said that her condition was slightly imto take part in the proceedings the pop- proved, so much so that the anxiety ocasioned by the patient's condition today had to some extent been dis-puted. There had been no reason to hange this favorable informal bulletin at a late hour when further inquir The opening invocation was delivered has were made, and there seemed to be every reason to expect that the night would pass as so many have passed, in watchfulness and anxiety, but without any sudden change one way or the Blame Will Streek. New Yone, Oct.21 -James G. Blame took a long drive with Mrs. Blaine and Mrs. Damrosche, and upon his return to the Fifth avenue botel he met clossted together for mearly two hours. fracing the conversation Mr. Blaine assured Mr. Plait that he would gladly make a speech during the last week of the enmosign his health continued to improve as it had during the last few weeks. In any event, the speech that Mr. Illame will make will not be a long one. has been no definite time fixed for the departure of Mr. Elaine for Washing-

Kansas City School Children. KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 2L-Twenty thousand school oblidren in Kansas celebration of the discusser of ica. The elatiorate program for the comment, enhanced material pros- day included parades and special eyercises at the various schools. A pleasng feature of the day's celebration was the presentation of hardsome flags to a number of the principal achools by the various O. A. B. posts of the

> New Young, Oct. Il. - Patrick Egen, I mised States minister to Chillitake the stomp next week in the inter-set of the regulations party. To Fight the Standard Oil Company,

DESCRIE Det 21 -- The Blocky Monn. tale Of company and the United Oil